

Interview about the Dakota Language Project

View my full interview recording conducted by senior history major Miyuki Mihira in 2022 as a part of a project in the History Department. The project was directed by Professor Susannah Ottoway. Here is the official description:

- Full video of interview with Mike Flynn talking about his linguistic project, Dakota Language Project, with the Sisseton Wahpeton Oyate Dakotah Language Institute (SWODLI), the path of your international and cross cultural career leading to this language project, the significance of this work in the context of linguistics research at large, of Carleton, and of his passion, as well as his thoughts on Carleton's institutional responsibilities to Northfield and Rice County in the future. This interview was conducted as part of a Historians for Hire project, Learning from Place.