

WEEKS 5&6

NEWS YOU CAN USE

A CARLETON NEWSLETTER

WEEK 5

April 26-May 2

- On Monday, April 26, the Biology Department sponsored The Interdependence of Biological and Cultural Diversity, led by Dr. Erika Zavaleta, a Professor in Ecology and Evolutionary Biology at the University of California, Santa Cruz.
- On Tuesday, April 27, the German department hosted "Becoming Black: East Germany between Reunification, Racism, and a Quest for Identity." Led by Katharina Warda, a freelance writer based in Berlin, she discussed East Germany, racism, classism, and punk.
- On Wednesday, April 28, sociologist, racism researcher, and writer Ted Thornhill, a professor of sociology and founding director of the Center for Critical Race and Ethnic Studies at Florida Gulf Coast University, reflected on the past year in "One Year Later: George Floyd, Black Lives Matter, & the White Backlash."
- On Friday, April 30, Baz Dreisinger examined the meaning of justice in her convocation titled "Incarceration Nations: A Journey to Justice in Prisons around the world."

WEEK 6

May 3-May 9

- On Tuesday, May 4, the Carleton Korean Student Association invited all Koreans and Korea enthusiasts for an exploration of Korean cuisine in Upper Sayles, with dishes including Bulgogi and Kimchi fried rice.
- On Thursday, May 6, Dr. Jennifer Hirsch discussed her recent book, "Sexual Citizens: A Landmark Study of Sex, Power, and Assault on Campus," offering an entirely new framework that emphasizes sexual assault's social roots.
- On Friday, May 7, Sia Her, a Hmong leader in Minnesota and executive director of the Minnesota State Council on Asian Pacific Minnesotans, presented her convocation on establishing relationships and trust in communities.
- On Friday, May 7, TRIO presented Alumni Advice for First Generation & Low-Income College Students, a panel of alumni discussing networking, career paths, and navigating life after Carleton.
- On Friday, May 7, filmmaker Cecilia Cornejo kicked off the Gender Minorities in CAMS Collective-sponsored Artist Talk about her film, Making Noise ~ The Story of a Skatepark.

Presented by the Student Ambassador Program