CARLETON CCCE CODE OF ETHICS
FOR STUDENTS INVOLVED WITH ACADEMIC CIVIC ENGAGEMENT (ACE) PROJECTS

Students will treat community partners and community members respectfully.

Students doing projects will behave as professional and ethical representatives of Carleton College at all times.

Students will understand their role and its limitations in the context of the academic civic engagement assignment.

Students will be aware of and follow the policies and procedures of the community agency.

Students will fulfill their project commitments to the community partner in accordance with the course requirements.

Students will abide by any applicable legal and ethical guidelines.

Students will recognize and reflect upon potential challenges to their personal value systems.

Students will carefully consider all aspects of the civic engagement assignment and consult with faculty members if participation would cause undue distress due to personal circumstances.

If students encounter a situation that concerns them, or where they feel there is a conflict of interest, they should talk to their professor and/or CCCE staff.
Overview of the 6 tenets of ethical community engagement

Shaping our Shared Future Together