Here’s your news for May from on and off campus.

Campus news

KXLE turns 75: President Byerly congratulated the 150th anniversary of the first broadcast from Carleton Station KXLE, which is the oldest continuously broadcasting college radio station in the nation. President Byerly said, “Carleton is proud of the students, faculty, and KXLE's alumni who’ve kept this radio station at the heart of Carleton’s campus and beyond.” More at alumni.carleton.edu/alumni-news.

President Byerly campaigns for better prioritizing diversity: In open letters to presidents of Liberal Arts Colleges, Dr. Alison Byerly addressed issues of equity and race at Liberal Arts Colleges, including Carleton. President Byerly is the co-author of the letter “Liberal Arts Colleges to Keep Prioritizing Diversity,” under the title “Liberal Arts Colleges to Keep Prioritizing Diversity.” More at alumni.carleton.edu/alumni-news.

Carleton honors Alumni Association Award recipients: More than 250 alumni and friends attended the Alumni Dinner on May 13, where 30 distinguished alumni were honored at Reunion in June for their accomplishments and their service to Carleton. More details on the other recipients and their achievements can be found at alumni.carleton.edu/alumni-news.

Upcoming events

Virtual Thursday, May 18: 10 a.m. Central
Breakfast Club: The Hunger Epidemic...and What We Actually Need to Do to Eliminate It

Virtual: Thursday, May 18
Urban Scholar Susannah Morgan ’91 and the nationally respected Oregon Food Bank will discuss the current status of a parallel crisis—a hunger epidemic. The global pandemic and associated economic downturn have led to a need for more than 63 million additional meals each month in America. More at alumni.carleton.edu/alumni-news.

In-person Saturday, May 13, 10 a.m.,: Memorial Office
Arboretum Bird Count

In-person: Saturday, May 13

Aloft Thursday, May 18: 10 a.m., Central
Breakfast Club: The Hunger Epidemic...and What We Actually Need to Do to Eliminate It

Virtual: Thursday, May 18

Urban Scholar Susannah Morgan ’91 and the nationally respected Oregon Food Bank will discuss the current status of a parallel crisis—a hunger epidemic. The global pandemic and associated economic downturn have led to a need for more than 63 million additional meals each month in America. More at alumni.carleton.edu/alumni-news.

In-person Friday, May 5, 10 a.m.,: Bovee Memorial Chapel
Commencement with Steven Levitsky

In-person: Friday, May 5

A Conversation with Bob Saget

Screenwriter-in-Residence Bob Saget is an award-winning writer of “Full House” (“Fuller House”), “The Wonder Years”). He’ll also discuss the award-winning book “Democracies Die,” as a scholar of democratization and political parties and the co-author of “How Democracies Die.” More at alumni.carleton.edu/alumni-news.

Juniors are packed with firsts:

There’s always some major news coming from Carleton—but this month, we really can’t stop talking about our juniors. Our students have won Critical Language Scholarships, have been named to a top post in the Department of Energy. Julian White-Davis ’23 has been named to a top post in the Department of Energy. Julian White-Davis ’23, the “funky opulence” of the studio, and the student DJs who keep it—and Carleton—humming.

Alumni Connects

Eleventh Friday, May 13: 7 p.m., Central
Carleton Connects: Lora Anne Synder ’72 and the view from the judge’s bench

Virtual Friday, May 13

We are no longer the nation’s top small college; it’s time for Carleton to be the nation’s top small college. Lora Anne Synder ’72 for a wide-ranging conversation about the future of Carleton, and what it means to be a leader in the Liberal Arts world. More at alumni.carleton.edu/alumni-news.

Vacation Home Awards: June 17: 1 p.m., Central
Convocation with Steven Levitsky

In-person: Friday, May 5

A Conversation with Bob Saget

Bob Saget, the “funky opulence” of the studio, and the student DJs who keep it—and Carleton—humming.

Alumni Connects Link

Learn more about the Alumni Connects program and Carleton Connects: Lora Anne Synder ’72 and the view from the judge’s bench.

KXLE turns 75: President Byerly congratulated the 150th anniversary of the first broadcast from Carleton Station KXLE, which is the oldest continuously broadcasting college radio station in the nation. President Byerly said, “Carleton is proud of the students, faculty, and KXLE’s alumni who’ve kept this radio station at the heart of Carleton’s campus and beyond.” More at alumni.carleton.edu/alumni-news.

President Byerly campaigns for better prioritizing diversity: In open letters to presidents of Liberal Arts Colleges, Dr. Alison Byerly addressed issues of equity and race at Liberal Arts Colleges, including Carleton. President Byerly is the co-author of the letter “Liberal Arts Colleges to Keep Prioritizing Diversity,” under the title “Liberal Arts Colleges to Keep Prioritizing Diversity.” More at alumni.carleton.edu/alumni-news.

Carleton honors Alumni Association Award recipients: More than 250 alumni and friends attended the Alumni Dinner on May 13, where 30 distinguished alumni were honored at Reunion in June for their accomplishments and their service to Carleton. More details on the other recipients and their achievements can be found at alumni.carleton.edu/alumni-news.

Virtual Thursday, May 18: 10 a.m. Central
Breakfast Club: The Hunger Epidemic...and What We Actually Need to Do to Eliminate It

Virtual: Thursday, May 18

Urban Scholar Susannah Morgan ’91 and the nationally respected Oregon Food Bank will discuss the current status of a parallel crisis—a hunger epidemic. The global pandemic and associated economic downturn have led to a need for more than 63 million additional meals each month in America. More at alumni.carleton.edu/alumni-news.

In-person Saturday, May 13, 10 a.m.,: Memorial Office
Arboretum Bird Count

In-person: Saturday, May 13

A Conversation with Bob Saget

Screenwriter-in-Residence Bob Saget is an award-winning writer of “Full House” (“Fuller House”), “The Wonder Years”). He’ll also discuss the award-winning book “Democracies Die,” as a scholar of democratization and political parties and the co-author of “How Democracies Die.” More at alumni.carleton.edu/alumni-news.

Juniors are packed with firsts:

There’s always some major news coming from Carleton—but this month, we really can’t stop talking about our juniors. Our students have won Critical Language Scholarships, have been named to a top post in the Department of Energy. Julian White-Davis ’23 has been named to a top post in the Department of Energy. Julian White-Davis ’23, the “funky opulence” of the studio, and the student DJs who keep it—and Carleton—humming.

Alumni Connects

Eleventh Friday, May 13: 7 p.m., Central
Carleton Connects: Lora Anne Synder ’72 and the view from the judge’s bench

Virtual Friday, May 13

We are no longer the nation’s top small college; it’s time for Carleton to be the nation’s top small college. Lora Anne Synder ’72 for a wide-ranging conversation about the future of Carleton, and what it means to be a leader in the Liberal Arts world. More at alumni.carleton.edu/alumni-news.

Vacation Home Awards: June 17: 1 p.m., Central
Convocation with Steven Levitsky

In-person: Friday, May 5

A Conversation with Bob Saget

Bob Saget, the “funky opulence” of the studio, and the student DJs who keep it—and Carleton—humming.

Alumni Connects Link

Learn more about the Alumni Connects program and Carleton Connects: Lora Anne Synder ’72 and the view from the judge’s bench.

KXLE turns 75: President Byerly congratulated the 150th anniversary of the first broadcast from Carleton Station KXLE, which is the oldest continuously broadcasting college radio station in the nation. President Byerly said, “Carleton is proud of the students, faculty, and KXLE’s alumni who’ve kept this radio station at the heart of Carleton’s campus and beyond.” More at alumni.carleton.edu/alumni-news.

President Byerly campaigns for better prioritizing diversity: In open letters to presidents of Liberal Arts Colleges, Dr. Alison Byerly addressed issues of equity and race at Liberal Arts Colleges, including Carleton. President Byerly is the co-author of the letter “Liberal Arts Colleges to Keep Prioritizing Diversity,” under the title “Liberal Arts Colleges to Keep Prioritizing Diversity.” More at alumni.carleton.edu/alumni-news.

Carleton honors Alumni Association Award recipients: More than 250 alumni and friends attended the Alumni Dinner on May 13, where 30 distinguished alumni were honored at Reunion in June for their accomplishments and their service to Carleton. More details on the other recipients and their achievements can be found at alumni.carleton.edu/alumni-news.

Virtual Thursday, May 18: 10 a.m. Central
Breakfast Club: The Hunger Epidemic...and What We Actually Need to Do to Eliminate It

Virtual: Thursday, May 18

Urban Scholar Susannah Morgan ’91 and the nationally respected Oregon Food Bank will discuss the current status of a parallel crisis—a hunger epidemic. The global pandemic and associated economic downturn have led to a need for more than 63 million additional meals each month in America. More at alumni.carleton.edu/alumni-news.

In-person Saturday, May 13, 10 a.m.,: Memorial Office
Arboretum Bird Count

In-person: Saturday, May 13

A Conversation with Bob Saget

Screenwriter-in-Residence Bob Saget is an award-winning writer of “Full House” (“Fuller House”), “The Wonder Years”). He’ll also discuss the award-winning book “Democracies Die,” as a scholar of democratization and political parties and the co-author of “How Democracies Die.” More at alumni.carleton.edu/alumni-news.

Juniors are packed with firsts:

There’s always some major news coming from Carleton—but this month, we really can’t stop talking about our juniors. Our students have won Critical Language Scholarships, have been named to a top post in the Department of Energy. Julian White-Davis ’23 has been named to a top post in the Department of Energy. Julian White-Davis ’23, the “funky opulence” of the studio, and the student DJs who keep it—and Carleton—humming.

Alumni Connects

Eleventh Friday, May 13: 7 p.m., Central
Carleton Connects: Lora Anne Synder ’72 and the view from the judge’s bench

Virtual Friday, May 13

We are no longer the nation’s top small college; it’s time for Carleton to be the nation’s top small college. Lora Anne Synder ’72 for a wide-ranging conversation about the future of Carleton, and what it means to be a leader in the Liberal Arts world. More at alumni.carleton.edu/alumni-news.

Vacation Home Awards: June 17: 1 p.m., Central
Convocation with Steven Levitsky

In-person: Friday, May 5

A Conversation with Bob Saget

Bob Saget, the “funky opulence” of the studio, and the student DJs who keep it—and Carleton—humming.