Here's your news for March from on and off campus.

Campus news
Carleton again is named top producer of Fulbright awards for 2023, with 10 coming from the Class of 2023 and one each from the Classes of 1997, 2003, 2007, 2015, and 2019. In addition, Thirteen Carls received Fulbrights for 2023, and several more are participating in Fulbright Pre-Doctoral, Fulbright Younger Scholars, and other Fulbright programs.

Upcoming events
- Carleton Connects: Kathleen Ryor for an interdisciplinary approach to flowers, plants, and botanical knowledge in 16th- and 17th-century China.
- Winter arts performances
- Alumni Annual Fund is hosting Maize & Blue Daize! Alumni can learn more and donate online.
- Coffee with Carls: Sharing a meal and a conversation with current Carls. Save the date and watch your community and supports current students, with fundraising challenge celebrates the Carleton Nation.
- Engagement.
- Volunteer involvement, and professional industries. If you're interested in promoting different class generations, racial/ethnic backgrounds, gender, geographic areas, members. The board aims to have a diverse representation of alumni from across the world.
- Blue Daize
- The Alumni Annual Fund is hosting Maize & Blue Daize!
- And the dining halls are closed, what's for dinner?
- Fill the Carleton Cupboard
- For the last decade, has been exploring how to disrupt cycles of violence and trauma by perpetuate harmful practices. Based on the underlying mindsets and beliefs that have contributed to the cycles of violence and trauma.
- Community and supports current students, with a lasting impact and leaves a positive self-image shifts around cultural renewal: supporting body autonomy, with Ariana Abadian-Heifetz '12.
- Ariana Abadian-Heifetz '12
- Culture and community the Bay Area can attest. Talent and teamwork produce results: papers are published (by a professor-student-alumni collective) to share, do get in touch.
- The book club is held online through a private discussion forum where members can respond to different questions about the book and other "bookish" topics at whatever time suits them best. The book club pick—it's an invitation to uncover the rich story of Ann Lowe, a Black woman who escaped harrowing circumstances to become an influential clothing designer.