Wednesday, Sept. 28
Fellowship and Undergraduate Research at Carleton: An Introduction
4:00–5:00 p.m. • Leighton 304
Carleton students have many opportunities to participate in research, as well as access to fellowships and other kinds of financial support for research and experiential learning. As its title suggests, this session will be an introduction to both of these worlds. Carleton’s Director of Student Fellowships, Marynel Ryan Van Zee, will introduce fellowship opportunities and share insights from students who have pursued them. And Associate Provost and Director of Undergraduate Research Eric Egge will talk about what undergraduate research is, and how you can get involved. There will also be time for questions on both fellowships and undergraduate research.

Designing Your Sophomore Year
Noon–1:00 p.m. • Leighton 304
Your sophomore year is a big year: declaring a major, selecting papers for your writing portfolio, considering life after Carleton plans, and more. Are you ready to make the most of your year? Let’s design it together! In this session, we will apply design thinking principles and career development strategies to identify your academic and personal goals, assess your skills and talents, explore your possibilities, and leave the session with an actionable strategy for your sophomore year.

How to Ace the Five Most Difficult Interview Questions
5:00–6:00 p.m. • Leighton 305
While no two interviews are alike, several questions have become commonplace—regardless of the position or industry—in an attempt to evaluate a candidate’s personality and potential. In this session, we will look at specific interview questions known for triggering bouts of panic (in the absence of interview preparation) and examples of answers detailing what not to do and what to do instead. Get tips that will help you confidently tackle difficult questions—and, ultimately, ace your interview.

Everything You Ever Wanted to Know about OCS, (but were afraid to ask)
7:00–8:00 p.m. • Leighton 305
Come learn about off-campus study options at Carleton, get a head-start on OCS planning and using OCS resources, and learn about Carleton and non-Carleton programs. You will be able to ask questions and even sign up for an individual appointment with an OCS adviser!
